Parish Staff Guest Columnist: Fr. Robert Ryan, Associate Pastor

Dear Friends,

I was raised in a great Catholic family. We prayed together often as a family and went to Mass together every Sunday and holy day. However, that did not prevent me from falling away from the faith due to the world's temptations.

In college, I embraced the campus lifestyle. I began to use the good works I was doing with a community service fraternity to rationalize why I didn't need to go to Mass regularly. I figured that as long as I was a good person doing good things, I didn't need the Church. But once I began down this slippery slope, my life away from grace started to snowball.

After graduating from college, I took a job with a large technology company in Austin, Texas. My diminished faith only dwindled more once I entered the corporate world of sales and marketing. Little by little, the moral code I had grown up with was eroding away because of the culture and lifestyle I was now living. I fully embraced a materialistic life, and at one point on Facebook, I even listed my religious views as "The U.S. Dollar." I had fallen far away from the Catholic faith I was brought up in.

My life had hit a low. I did not recognize the person I had become. After I was laid off from my job, I thought my life had ended. At the invitation of my parents, I decided to move back home to Chicago. I needed to re-evaluate my life.

With my parents, I started attending Mass again. And one day, I had a feeling in the pit of my stomach that I needed to go to confession. I was terrified. It had been more than 10 years, and I was convinced there was no way God would forgive me for the life I had led. However, one Saturday in June 2013, I made the leap, and I went to confession. The Holy Spirit took over and began to draw all of these sins and failings out of me. After confessing my life, amidst tears of shame and remorse, the priest on the other side of the screen responded by simply saying, "Welcome home." Once the priest prayed the Words of Absolution over me, my life changed. I felt different. I was different; I was free.

After this reconciliation, my life started to turn around. My experience in the confessional showed me that God is real, and his love for me is real. As a result, I started to feel this strange call in my heart to get more involved in my faith. I would often be approached by friends at my home parish — St. Peter's in Antioch, Illinois (now Our Lady of the Lakes Parish) — asking me if I had considered the priesthood. But I would always respond with a chuckle and say, "There's no way Jesus would want me as one of his priests."

One day in January 2015, my mother's friend approached me and very kindly informed me there was a retreat at Mundelein Seminary in a few weeks for men exploring the priesthood. I figured it would be a good reason for me to get out of the house. After taking this thought to prayer, I finally managed to gather the courage to reach out to the vocation director for the Archdiocese of Chicago.

The following Friday, I came to Mundelein Seminary for the Exploring Priesthood Weekend. I was not sure what I would find nor what to expect. And what I discovered was a group of men playing basketball and eating pizza — just being normal, but all with a deep love of our Lord Jesus Christ.

On Saturday, January 17, 2015, during Eucharistic Adoration in Mundelein's Chapel of St. John Paul II, I finally asked the Lord to help me figure out what to do with my life. Then, clear as day, the Lord said to me, "Be my priest." After wrestling with the idea for a few minutes, I said, "Yes, Lord," and I was filled with an indescribable peace. A few weeks later, I began the application process to Mundelein Seminary.

The following August, I stepped on campus as a student, and every day I prayed for my first parish and that I would be a faithful, saintly, and fruitful priest for them. Now six years later, by the grace of God, I am a priest of the Archdiocese of Chicago — your priest. I continue to pray for you every day, and I ask you to please pray for me as well. Let's become great saints together!

In Christ's Sacred Heart,

Fr. Robert Ryan
