Dear Friends,

How many times have we been in a department store when the salesperson has approached us and asked, "May I help you?" Whenever the question is asked of me, I usually reply, "No, thank you. I'm just looking." In the Gospel today, Jesus doesn't ask the followers of John if he could help them, for he already knows he can; he asks them and us, "What are you looking for?" And he invites us to come and see.

What are we looking for? That is a good question. In life, we need to know what we want, what we seek. We constantly seek, yearn, and reach for something beyond ourselves, whether we realize it or not. When we pay attention to the yearnings inside of us, really attend to them, our Lord asks us what we are looking for. Sometimes we go to the wrong places to satisfy our yearnings; we believe that things that are not actually good for us will satiate us. Firstly, though, we need to discover what it is that we are looking for.

Samuel gives us a great example in his search. He said, "Speak Lord for your servant is listening." He longed to do the will of God. He listened to the call, and he answered with a great deal of enthusiasm and generosity. He obeyed Eli, and put himself at the service of the Lord God. God rewarded him with divine presence and with effective speech. When we allow our search to include a search for the will of God, and we permit the Lord to speak to us and show us his will, and then we do the will of God in our lives, God will indeed reward us with his presence.

Those of us who respond to Jesus' invitation to come and see will be amazed at the things that Jesus shows us. When we come and see, we will see the great things the Lord has done throughout salvation history and the great things he is doing in our lives today. We will see the preaching, teaching, and healing of Jesus. We will see his passion, compassion, and unconditional love. We will experience in our own lives conversion and transformation. To come and see is to take a leap of faith. To come and see is to surrender. To come and see is a promise of good things to come.

So today, let's really examine our lives, and listen to our yearnings. Let's hear the Baptist's direction to "Behold the Lamb of God." As we behold God's Lamb and hear the invitation to come and see, we can echo Samuel's response to God's call and say, "Speak Lord for your servant is listening," or the words of the psalmist who sings, "Here am I Lord. I come to do your will." What are you looking for? Jesus can help you find it.

From the Pastor's Desk...

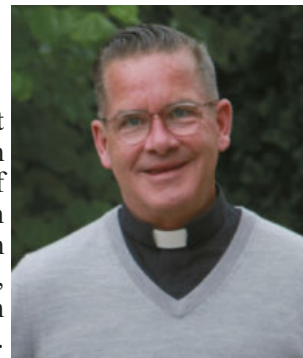

I am delighted to announce that Colleen Larkin will join us in August as principal of our amazing parish school! I am grateful to our principal search committee, led by Katie Lawler, for their expertise and dedication throughout this long process.

Thanks also goes to our school leadership team, school board members, and the many parents who offered notes of encouragement, suggestions, and support along the way. I'd like to thank Christine Elliott for her tremendous grace, love, and wise and gentle counsel over three dynamic years as principal.

Colleen began her teaching career here in 2008 and learned and grew along with us for 11 years. Notably, she spent three years as assistant principal. Colleen has served as K-4 Principal at Fairview South in Skokie since 2019. She is an enthusiastic, devoted, and compassionate Catholic leader. Colleen holds a BA in Elementary Education with a Reading Specialist Endorsement from Purdue University, a Master of Arts in Curriculum and Instruction from Concordia University, and a Master of Arts in School Leadership and Type 75 Certification from Concordia University for K-12. She and her husband, Nick, are parishioners and are parents to three beautiful children: Nicky (8), Jack (5) and Charlotte (2).

Please join me in extending a very warm welcome to Colleen Larkin. We look forward to sharing opportunities over the months ahead for you to get to know Colleen and better understand how the great gift of her "yes" to Saints JFX translates to a continued path of faith, love, and joyful learning at our parish school. The future is bright at Saints JFX!

Peace,
