Guest Columnist: Christine Elliott, Saints JFX School Principal

Dear Friends,

It is an honor and a privilege to teach in a Catholic school! Being a Catholic school educator means having the ability to incorporate the teachings and values of the Catholic Church into every aspect of our educational environment. We are involved in the faith formation of our students on a daily basis, helping them to understand and develop their spirituality. Morning and midday prayer, weekly school Masses, and sacramental preparation are all important components of who we are and how we are committed to a holistic approach.

Catholic Schools Week is an annual celebration that highlights the joy and significance of Catholic education across the United States. This week-long event begins next Sunday, January 28th. Our families are encouraged to attend the 9:30am Mass at St. Francis Xavier Church and the 10:30am Mass at St. Joseph Church. Both Masses are followed by vibrant Open House events on each campus where teachers will be on hand to answer questions about the exciting things happening in their classrooms. All are welcome!

The remainder of this week is full of spirited and meaningful activities, events, and special programs organized by our Student Council and HSO. Spirit days, community service activities, a faculty feast, an all school talent show, and even an 8th grade versus faculty volleyball game provide opportunities for our students and teachers to celebrate our special learning family and shared faith.

At Saints JFX School, we strive to create a supportive, faith based environment where students feel valued, understood, and part of a larger and loving community. Our teachers are incredible guides on this journey as we work to know and honor every student and their gifts in their many forms. My hope and prayer is that our children feel God's love as they learn and grow within our walls, in multiple ways, on a daily basis. I am especially grateful that our school is rooted in a dynamic parish family that supports this great work.

Happy Catholic Schools Week!
